BREAD TRUST YIELDS. JAIL FOR ALD. PARKS. OUR NEW VOLCANO. FIRST WEEK'S TREATM

Cheaper Prices Bearing Pruit

Evidence of a Disintegration.

Full Weight Loaves Must Be Furaished at a Minimum Price.

World's" indisputable and price of favor of a reduction in the price of the eighteen-ounce lop has proved too much for the Breo Trust. Disruption in the ranks of the Wholesale Bakers' has contained the result. It is now association to the result. It is now only a matter of coming to a decision as to the time when the reduction shall disclosure that two of the most ent members of the combine had ed to furnish full-weight loaves at a price far below that asked by "The Evening World," taken in conjunction with the array of evidence published by this paper, practically disposes of the question of cheaper bread.

It was learned to-day that for the past week several hundred grocers who have been drawing their entire supply of bread from the Trust concerns, have been cutting down their orders to such an extent that a few weeks more of stubbornness on the part of bakers would mean bankruptcy to most of them. price far below that asked by "The would mean bankruptey to most of them.

The people absolutely refuse to buy Trust bread at five cents a loaf, while bakers not in the combine are furnishing as good an article and as much of it for four cents a loaf.

Hundreds of housewives have taken the advice of "The Evening World" and are baking their own bread. With figure to cheap, frugal people have learned that a leavy saving on the weekly household expenses may be made in this way. However, as soon as the price of the signteen-ounce loaf is reduced these housewives will gracefully acknowledge the favor by again procuring their supply from the bakers. A baker who has been profiting by the obstinacy of the Trust for the last two weeks said to-day that he contemplated putting his prices down to a fraction below the three-cent basis if the price of the raw material showed no inclination to rise above the Life figure, at which the very best patent flour is now quoted.

His bail, pending an appeal, is fixed at $5.000. The case of William Meyers, who turned State's evidence against Parks, will be considered on the first Thursday in January. Meyers withdrew his plea of not guilty when called to the witness stand and substituted a plea of non-vult. Parks's gambling-place at Asbury Park was located in a barn, and was furnished with equipments and carpets taken from his New York resort.

John C. Fremont reported on Nov. 13, 1823, that Mount Tacoma was in eruption.

According to Prof. Holden, of the Link Observatory, a violent eruption of the mountain occurred Nov. 12, 1872. In May, 1850, volumes of smoke were observed issuing from the crater. On June 17, 1884, jets of steam were observed shooting upward from the mountain.

"It is interesting," said Prof. Plummor, that several of the planets, including the earth, are at present in line, a fact which bears out the theory of Frof. Alexis Perry and others, that such conditions are favorable to carthquakes and volcano phenomena. There have been so far twenty-two large earthquakes throughout the world during October and November of the present year."

Mount Rainler (the official scatter).

Mount Rainier (the official spelling), or Mount Tacoma (from the Indians' hame meaning "Snowy Mountain"), is 14,444 feet high and overtops the rest of the Cascade Range. It rises abruptly from the low forest lands, of which fifty-five miles ile between its base and Puget Sound. The peak is a symmetrical pyramid as viewed from Seattle, a double peak from Tacoma, and from Olympia, or Yelm Prairie, it shows its three peaks in residence of its President, Mrautline.

Eight days is the least time in which an experienced climber can make the round arip from either Seattle or Tacoma to the summit of Mount Rainler and return.

The first attempt to climb the mountain was made by Dr. William Frazer Tolmie, a Hudson Bay Company surgeon, in 1833. He reached Tolmie Peak, by way of Crater Lake, on the Northwest slope. Lieut. A. V. Kants reached the South Peak in 1857; F. R. Van Trump and Hazard Stevens reached the Dome or Crater Peak in August, 1870, and at the close of 1822 thirty-eight climbers were known to have reached the summit.

mit.
One woman, Miss Fay Fuller, reached the Dome in August, 1890.
The mountain was named for Rear-Admiral Rainier, one of the British Lords of the Admiralty, it having been discovered by Vancouver in 1792. Gen. Fremont saw it smoking in 1842 and referred to it as Regnier, believing it had been named after Lieut. Regnier, of Marchand's expedition.
